True/False (5 pts each)

Ho, hum, another batch of instructions. But this time we will make them a little shorter, because we assume that students realize what they should do.

_____ 'Monty Python and the Holy Grail' is a very funny movie.

I don't know why you'd need this, but here is a block of true/false questions.

_____ 'Roger & Me' chronicles one man's attempt to get into Disneyland so that he can visit Toontown.

_____ Laden swallows fly faster than unladen swallows, unless they carry coconuts.

_____ All animals are created equal, but some animals are more equal than others.

_____ This sentence is not false.

Section 3. Fill in the blank (5 pts each)

Here is a place where you can put some instructions, so that the students won't get confused when they see a piece of paper with a whole bunch of questions on it. Of course, the instructions aren't required to be that lengthy, but you can make them as lengthy as you want so that people know what you are talking about.

1. According to Kant, we should always always always follow the _____ imperative.

2. _____'s first work was the Tractatus-_____ Philosophicus.

I don't know why you'd need this, but here is a block of fill-in-the-blank questions.

3. _____ thought that without a strong, _____, effective government, chaos would reign in the state of nature.

4. One main component of Nietzche's moral philosophy is the _____.

5. Mill's theory of morality is known as _____

6. How much _____ would a _____ chuck, if a _____ would _____, wood?

Section 4. A title

These are meant to be multiple-choice questions — the type you would give students to fill out using scantrons (or whatever you call the number-2 pencil automatic grading machines).

7. This is a question. Which is the correct answer? ➜   ☑

(a)   ☐

(b)   ☐

(c)   ☐

(d)   ☐

(e)   ☐

8. How many cows does it take to graze a field?
